

AFIN CALL FOR APPLICATIONS
TWO POSTDOC FELLOWSHIPS
(FORMACIÓ/JUNIOR & INCORPORACIÓ/SENIOR)

AFIN is an interdisciplinary research group based at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona (Autonomous University of Barcelona), focused on human reproduction, reproductive politics, family diversity, gender issues and childhood, adolescence, and youth, from diverse cultures and backgrounds. Fundamental to AFIN are attention to diversity and understanding the challenges arising from changes in family, personal relationships and social life in a globalized world. Since its inception in 2004, the group's work has been characterized by an inter-disciplinary approach, creating synergies with other groups and institutions, and aiming to disseminate research findings broadly.

The AFIN Research Group seeks candidates to sponsor in applying for the following two Spanish competitive postdoctoral positions (formació/junior and incorporació/senior):

I.1 Formació/Junior: a two-years full time fellowship addressed to postdoctoral candidates to do their research in Spanish centres. The gross annual salaries will be 25,000 euros, with additional mobility programs during a period of eight months.
